Lack of Housing to Cut SIU-SW Enrollment

A critical shortage of facilities to house students near the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus will result in a cut-back of approximately 10,000 in the projected enrollment of 1970, John Schnabel, university registrar, told the Press-Record Friday.

Unless additional housing facilities are provided, either through construction of dormitories or private housing on a large scale, the university's maximum enrollment can be expected to level off to about 8000 during the next five-year period, Schnabel said. Earlier projections estimated enrollment at 18,000 by 1970.

Classes for the fall term will begin Wednesday with a final enrollment figure of from 7100 to 7300, the registrar noted. The enrollment will be about the same as that of the 1965-66 term.

Several reasons enter into a revision of projected enrollment at the SIU-SW Campus, Schnabel said, but housing is by far the major factor in holding down enrollment. Junior college districts established since earlier enrollment projections were made will take a number of students that normally were expected to attend the new Southwestern Campus.

Students who applied to the Southwestern Campus were referred to the Carbondale branch because they lived too far away to commute to the Southwestern Campus and housing facilities were unavailable.

The university now has a request for student housing before the Board of Higher Education, but in view of budget reductions by the board, the hope for constructing dormitories is not as optimistic as it once was.

The Board of Higher Education trimmed $15,000,000 off the capital improvements budget of the campus early last week, granting only 39% of the requested funds.

"We have revised our projections to anticipate most of our enrollment from Madison and St. Clair counties," the registrar added, pointing out that when a student has to travel from 30 to 50 miles a day back and forth to college, it becomes fairly difficult.

Earlier the university had anticipated attracting students from an area within a 50-mile radius of the Southwestern Campus. Last year approximately 3000

Employment Force Climbs To 18,325 During Summer

Sparked by seasonal gains in primary metals and settlement of a labor-management dispute in food processing, manpower requirements at 44 reporting firms in the Granite City area climbed to 18,325 in mid-July, 700 more than the figure six months ago, Malcolm A. Thompson, manager of the State Employment Service office here, reported today.

However, the total is 1000 below the level of July 1965, he said. Heavy seasonal layoffs in transportation equipment led to the one-year drop and prevented an even greater upturn in the last six months.

Thompson said these rolbacks accounted for the advance in 59 since January in the number looking for work. He added the outlook is for substantial additions to payrolls during the next several months, largely in transportation and primary metals.

Employment Statistics

During July, 64 area firms employed 18,315 persons, including 12,325 females. In January the totals were 17,627 and 1896, and in July of 1965, they were 19,300 and 1914.

Twelve manufacturers of durable goods employed 12,386 in July, including 494 women, compared to 12,569 and 462 last January and 14,136 and 469 in July 1965.

Thirteen manufacturers of non-durable goods showed employment figures of 1373, with 188 women last July, 915 and 148 last January and 959 and 147 in July 1965.

Prizes will be awarded, one to the child receiving his post card through the mail quickest and one for the post card mailed the farthest from Granite City.

All 75 children participated in a musical and recital program on the theme of "God is Alive" held during church services Sunday.

Following the program, Bible school handcraft was displayed in the church basement.

Operation 'Clean Sweep' At Kirkpatrick Homes

"Operation Clean Sweep," a general neglect have created a condition which could prove hazardous to children playing in the cemetery area, Mrs. Ray explained.

Outlined at Meeting Approximately 25 residents attended the meeting Thursday. Members heard David Morgan, housing authority director, outline the preliminary procedures to obtaining new traffic warning signs in the vicinity of the cemetery area.

He also explained several of the mandatory regulations determined by Congress, which must be adhered to, both in the operation of a federal housing project and by those living there.

Other guests who addressed the association, included Sixth Ward Alderman Gerald Parmley and Supt. of Streets William War-

Spateheaded by Mrs. Ray, two block party units directed by Mrs. Betty Liddell and Mrs. Dolores Nikonowicz, began "Operation Clean Sweep" from a central area in the housing development.

The two crews swept outdoors, gathering association members and other neighbors enroute, Mrs. Ray said.

In addition to a greatly improved appearance brought about by the removal of trash, Mrs. Ray said the association now plans to ask that speed parking areas be repainted.

She added that at a future date, the group may expand their spruce-up chores to include the old cemetery, located near Kirkpatrick Homes. High weeds and an EOC community side.

Jury Here Sets Cost For Airport's Tract

A price tag of $298,324 was set for a 164-acre tract at Bethalto by a circuit court jury in the local court division where a condemnation suit filed by the City Memorial Airport authority was concluded at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

The figure was set by a jury for George and Ella Balsters, owners of the land needed to extend the airport's 3600-foot northwest-southeast runway to 5700 feet.

The Balsters are to receive $270,000 for the land and $17,324 for six outbuildings and crops on 155 acres.

Per acre, the figure was $1600. The Balsters had asked $1500 per acre and $36,500 for buildings and crops. The airport authority had offered $1200 per acre. Appraisers had set the land value as low as $850 and as high as $2500 an acre.

The case opened last Tuesday, and Judge Fred P. Schuman presided.

The murder trial of Walter H. Rowland, 26, of Granite City, charged with the fatal shooting of a newly discharged soldier last Feb. 28, was delayed in Madison county circuit court last week as the defense filed a motion to have a psychiatric examination given the defendant.

The criminal division of the court spent most of last week in an attempted murder trial against Nathaniel Townner of Alton, charged with shooting his wife. The case was declared a mistrial because of a hung jury. Circuit Judge James O. Monroe reset the case for Wednesday.

Double-Ring Ceremony For Koch-Fischer Wedding

The wedding of Miss Laureen Kay Fischer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Fischer, of Caseyville and A/C Phillip J. Koch, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Koch of Maryville, formerly of Granite City, took place Saturday evening at Frieden's United Church of Christ in Caseyville.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by the Rev. Arby Hosto in a candlelight setting.

A gown of peau de soie was worn by the bride. The Empire bodice, fashioned with a Chanilly lace over blouse effect, had a bateau neckline and long tapered sleeves. The A-line skirt featured a lace-edged shoulder train which was detachable.

A forward headpiece of lace and edged with tiny seed pearls and crystals secured the bride's tiered bouffant veil of imported silk illusion and she carried a single long stem yellow rose on a small white Bible.

Miss Linda Fischer, the bride's sister, was maid of honor, serving with three bridesmaids, Mrs. Ronnie Johnson, another sister, Miss Jeanne Dalechek, and Miss Janet Shourd. The groom wore a gown of cinnamon peau de soie styled on Empire lines with elbow sleeves and an A-line skirt. She held a bouquet of gold colored pom poms.

The bridesmaids were similar, attired in gold peau de soie with cascades of bronze 'mums. All wore matching double rose headpieces.

Yurko and Ziegler Wedding At St. Elizabeth's Church

Bouquets of white gladioli and blue pom-poms, intermingled with greenery, decorated the altar of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church Saturday morning for the 10:30 wedding of Miss Jo Ann Ziegler, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Ziegler, 215 Briarcliff, and Andrew J. Yurko, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew A. Yurko, 1217 Grand avenue. The Rev. Lawrence Mattingly officiated.

White satin ribbon marked the pews along the center aisle, and a program of wedding music was provided by Mrs. Francis Jud, organist, and Mrs. Mary Scanlon, vocalist.

The bride wore a gown of white silk organza fashioned with a scoop neckline overlaid with motifs of reembarbroed Alencon lace etched with pearls. The motifs of lace extended into the long tapered sheer organza sleeves.

A full sweep cathedral train which fell from a bow at the back waistline was also embellished with delicate motifs. Floral petals of organza and pearls held the bride's tiered veil of illusion and she carried a cascade nosegay of glameias, stephanotis, lilies of the valley and lemon leaves.

A matron of honor, Mrs. Jo Ann Sydek, sister of the bridegroom, bridesmaids, Misses Kathy and Nancy Ziegler, Misses Janet and Judy Thomas, all cousins of the bride and groom, and Mrs. Grace Ziegler, sister-in-law of the bride, together with two junior maids, Debra and Denise Zydek, nieces of the bridegroom, were dressed alike in ice blue silk organza over crepe.

The gowns had highrised bodices, scoop necks and long slim sleeves. The long slender silhouette skirts of white crepe with back panels banded in blue fell from waistlines with satin bows. Matching floral petals of organza secured tiny veils. They held nosegays of blue ball pom-poms with streamers of white and blue.

John Ziegler, the bride's brother, was best man, and the list of groomsmen and ushers included Tom Stallone, Donald Felker, Stanley Sydek, Jerry Grakland, Tom Lubak, Arthur Poorman and William Loftus. Steve Poorman, a godchild of the bride, carried the rings.

The bride's mother wore a mint green sheath dress of chiffon over silk with a soft ribbon ruffle outlining the skirt, while the bridegroom's mother chose a three-piece gold shantung suit with a jeweled bodice. Both wore white cymbidium orchid corsages and accessories to match their costumes.

A breakfast for the bridal party and the families was held at the Venice-Madison American Legion Home where friends of the couple attended a reception in the evening.

After a honeymoon in the Missouri Ozarks, the newlyweds will live in Granite City.

A graduate of the Granite City high school, the bride is employed at First Granite City National Bank. Mr. Yurko was graduated from Assumption high school, East St. Louis, and received his bachelor of arts degree last June from Southern Illinois University - Southwest Campus where he is now working toward a master degree in psychology, and is employed as a graduate intern and assistant to the dean of students.

Miss Susan Jeanne Douin And Frank Bautech Jr. Wed

Miss Susan Jeanne Douin and Frank Bautech Jr. exchanged wedding vows in a ceremony taking place Saturday morning at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerard B. Douin, 3128 Carlson drive. Mr. Bautech is a son of Mrs. Pauline C. Bautech, 1908 St. Clair avenue, and the late Frank Bautech sr.

The Rev. A. J. Schwellenbach officiated at the 11 o'clock Nuptial Mass before the altar decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. White satin ribbons for the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Scott of Blue Mound, Ill., grandparents of the bride; Sam Bautech, brothers of the bride and groom, served as altar boys.

Phillip Spence presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Marvin Boyer.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie with an Empire waist and chapel train. The scoop neckline was trimmed with Alencon lace and seed pearls and the train was caught in front at the Empire waist and in the back with a fabric bow. It was edged all around with lace.

An illusion veil was attached to a ringlet of lace, pearls and crystals and the bride carried a cascade of white hybrid orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Jacqueline Louin, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Judy Bautech, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Michelle Douin, another sister of the bride, served as bridesmaids with a junior maid, Barbara Douin, a younger sister.

All of the attendants were in floor-length mint green peau de soie gowns. Empire style, trimmed with moss green velvet. The A-line skirts had panels of moss green in the back. The bodices featured scoop necks, and elbow sleeves. Circles of green and white veils formed their headpieces and all carried bouquets of pom poms in fall shades combined with autumn leaves.

Donna Bautech, small sister of the bride, and Thomas Douin, the bride's brother, served as flower girl and ring bearer. The former wore a dress of mint green peau de soie trimmed in moss green velvet ribbon and a matching headpiece and veil. She carried a basket of petals.

Michael Nesbit was best man, and groomsmen and ushers were Gary Stanek, Philip Reichert, cousin of the groom, William Thomas, and two brothers of the bride, Joseph and Donald Douin.

The bride's mother chose a dress of royal blue ribonette and matching accessories, while the bridegroom's mother wore a gold brocade suit and brown accessories. Both had corsages of white roses.

The wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride and friends of the couple were invited to a reception at the VFW hall from 4 to 9 p.m.

After a short trip, the pair will leave for Everett, Wash., where the bridegroom, who is serving changed wedding vows in a ceremony taking place Saturday morning at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

The former Miss Douin was graduated from Granite City high school and has been employed as a secretary in St. Louis. She also attended night classes at the University of Missouri in St. Louis.

Miss Janice Crawford of Green Bay, Wis., presided over the reception.

Other out-of-town guests here for the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Scott of Blue Mound, Ill., grandparents of the bride; Sam Bautech, brothers of the bride and groom, served as altar boys.

Braves Must Polish Dull Edges Before Trojan Game

Coaches John Toncoff and Keith Parker have found out that the Coolidge Braves have a lot of rough edges to polish before this Thursday's 4 p.m. encounter here with Madison's frosh team.

The discovery came in a full 60-minute game-type scrimmage Thursday afternoon when, as each Toncoff put it, "A lot of boys who thought they were football players found out otherwise."

Ending in a 12-12 tie, which found the Whites no more successful with extra-point booting than the Red & Whites, the game uncovered a lot more weaknesses.

"There was too much chicken fighting instead of hard driving in our line," Toncoff observed. "Our pass patterns were way off, too. Boys forgot to delay when going out for a pass, or they didn't fake right or, he continued, 'they didn't take the steps and cut back as they should.'"

The difficulty, said Toncoff, comes in putting things covered during the practice into action under game conditions. "We thought we had the boys pretty well up on fundamentals but in a game condition they just forget," Toncoff noted.

Toncoff and Parker have now taken about 48 of the 70 players at Coolidge under closer scrutiny. They have had to bring in graders along with the eighth grade graders for more fundamentals from coach Rich Williams.

Prather Grid Coaches Sort Out Starters

Fundamentals is an over-worked word, but very important in training football players. This was an observation coming a lot of practice on offensive and Al Sonnenberg as they busily groomed the Prather Chiefs for Thursday's game at Bethalto.

"We're continuing to work on blocking and tackling," Fyalka said, "but in addition, we're doing a lot of practice on offensive and defensive plays."

Sifting Process
While both coaches are pleased with the progress of the 60 boys now working out at Prather, Fyalka did interject, "The boys indicate that a great deal of work is needed. Especially, work on improving timing and coordination. These are so vital to team work."

One other problem — though some coaches may think of it as a blessing — is that of sifting out a starting lineup from 60 players. "It's an extremely difficult task," Fyalka said, "to screen this many boys in such a short time."

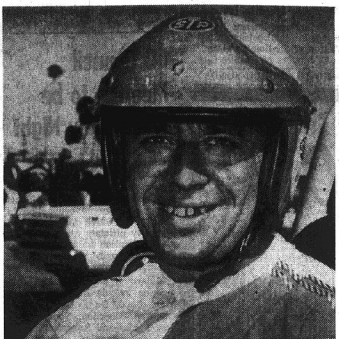

"We want to give every boy a chance, so we'll probably hold off on selecting the starting lineup until a day or two before the game," the new Prather coach said. "We do have a number of boys now who are capable of starting," he added.

Fyalka lists 39 ninth grade players still out for football, and another 21 from the eighth grade ranks. Considering that only 11 can actually start Thursday, this represents a lot of sifting out. But many more than 11 boys will see action against Bethalto. That is certain.

Event Will See Champs Crowned

IMCA Race Here Will Cap Off 1966 Season

Granite City will become the temporary headquarters for the International Motor Contest Association next week in preparation for its Oct. 2 championship sprint car finale of 1966.

It was learned during the weekend that IMCA officers have rented headquarters accommodations at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn from Sept. 27 to Oct. 2.

Many other announcements were made, too.

Rookie of the Year
Definitely planned for the climax weekend of racing is the crowning of the IMCA Rookie of the Year, almost certainly to be Grady Wade of Wichita, Kan.

The pick would be no surprise to fans and officials who have watched this driver cop two races this year out of his first five tries.

Last year's IMCA Rookie of the Year will be here for this event, too. He is Bill Puerbaugh of Tulsa, Okla., currently among three of the runners-up for national championship honors.

National Award
Another champion to be crowned here will be Jerry Richter, Forest Lake, Minn. Richter, two-time national champion, is currently out of reach in high point standings, assuring that Granite City fans will view the racer's third national crown.

Additionally, two motor product companies will honor drivers during the big event. The STP trophy will go to the winner of a special match race pitting the best four drivers in a pre-feature race.

The STP trophy is a replica of the world's fastest in marble. It will go to the checkered-flag claimer in a special match race pitting four top drivers prior to the feature on Oct. 2.

May Host Banquet
Bardol Corp. of St. Louis has announced that it will award a loving cup and racing jackets to outstanding drivers in the event here. The jackets are fashioned out of black satin material.

One of the most persistent rumors cropping up during preparations for the IMCA race is that the National Sprint Car Award Banquet will be held here.

Traditionally, this banquet, honoring the year's top IMCA drivers, is held in the city hosting the finale of the association's programs. That city has been Nashville for the past several seasons.

Granite City is the last leg on the IMCA circuit this year and the logical pick as site for the testimonial dinner. If it is held here, the Oct. 2 affair will take on even more importance; racing figures from all over the country attend the banquet.

"Whether we can get the banquet or not is still uncertain," said Roy Brummel, announcer and publicity director at Tri-City Speedway. "There's talk of holding it in Des Moines later in the season."

Grid Scouts Really Do 'Know the Score'

Which person leaving a football game would most likely be able to tell you the final score? Certainly not the coaches or players. The officials, announcers and sportswriters would know the score. So would even the most casual fans. Even the concession people would know the score, if no other details.

Answer: A scout.
This bit of information came to light during an interview with Warrior defensive line coach Tom Wyrostek, who doubles in brass as a scout each Friday night.

Too Busy
"This is right," said Wyrostek. "Often you're so busy that you have to finally look at the score board to find out who won." "Actually, when you consider it, the scout is least interested in the final score. This is merely incidental to his chores of detailing how the particular team he's eye-balling performed."

But while the scout may not be immediately aware of the final score, no person leaves the stadium with any more detailed analysis of the game than this expert scout snapper.

Scouts Often Welcome
How snappy are scouts? "Actually," Wyrostek explained, some schools, like Quincy, reserve a section for scouts and are very nice to work with, he said, somewhat dispelling the idea of the scout stealthily peering through binoculars from atop a nearby roof.

But while schools themselves are often sympathetic to scouting, scouts, fans often are not. "I recall one game at a school I won't mention," Wyrostek revealed, "where fans in front kept jumping in on every play and tried to give me a hard time."

Seems the fans in question had just lost a transfer player to the Warriors. . . . Wyrostek revealed some of the not-so-secret trade secrets of the scout. "First of all, you want to get to the game early so you can watch the warmup. Here's where you see various members of the team, who does the kicking, who looks good passing, and so forth."

GC Steel Gun Club Installs Range Trap: Recruiting Members

The John N. Marshall Gun Club of Granite City Steel Co., led by Robert Carroll, chief instructor and range officer, has installed an automatic electric trap on the gun range, located on Granite City Steel property.

The club, still in the organization process, has made tentative plans for several projects. When the complete membership is formed, regular meetings will be conducted.

At present, plans have been made for an inter-plant "shoot" to be held on Sept. 24, open to club members only.

In October, a "sight-in" day will be conducted for local hunters on rifle and shotgun before the deer seasons open.

Carroll announces that the club has 200 members and the charter membership will be closed on Jan. 1, 1967. After that time, a member must pay an initiation fee plus his dues. Members must be employees of the plant.

Understanding Wife
"You can see who's being talked about and fill in on other things," Wyrostek commented while diplomatically sidestepping an inquiry as to the probability of writers to employ an exaggeration here and there.

"And the wife? Does she understand why her husband is going to be 100 miles away when there's a game right here in town the same night?" Wyrostek, who says that scouting has become an increasingly vital aspect of modern high school football, said Mrs. Wyrostek does understand.

Wives of football coaches are that way. They often feel a little left out.

Parkinson-Searcy Nuptials At Chase NAB Chapel, Tex.

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Edna Jane Searcy and Charles Thomas Parkinson Jr. Saturday morning in Beeville, Texas.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Gerald Searcy of Beeville and the late Mr. Searcy. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parkinson sr., the bridegroom's parents, reside at 2708 Madison avenue, Granite City.

The 9:30 ceremony was performed in the chapel at Naval Air Base, Chase Field, Beeville, where the bridegroom is stationed with the U. S. Naval Air Force. The Rev. M. H. Clifford officiated before the altar decorated with white summer flowers.

In the wedding party was the bride's sister, Mrs. Fritz Sturm, matron of honor, Miss Pamela Parkinson, a sister of the bridegroom, bridesmaid, and Leonard Galley and Jack Epley, best man and groomsman. George and Donald Searcy, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

White lace over satin fashioned the floor-length gown of the bride who was escorted by her twin brother, Ernest J. Searcy. The molded bodice featured a scalloped neckline and the back of the bodice skirt was accented with tiers of net and lace. A shoulder-length veil of French illusion cascaded from a crown of satin roses and Spanish seed pearls. The bride's bouquet was a cascade arrangement of stephanotis centered with an orchid.

The honor attendant was gowned in pale green peau de soie. The A-line skirt was floor-length and the bodice had a rounded neckline and three-quarter sleeves. A pill box of matching satin held in place an illusion veil. The bridesmaid was similarly attired in pale yellow. Both held clusters of yellow crysanthemums.

After the wedding trip the couple was honored at a luncheon and reception at the Chief's Club in Dallas, Texas. When they return from a honeymoon trip, they will reside at 900 N. Berry road, Beeville.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Granite City high school. The former Miss Searcy was graduated from schools in Beeville.

13,000 Illinois Veterans In Schools Under GI Bill

Thirteen thousand veterans in Illinois and upwards of a quarter of a million in the nation will be in classrooms by October with the assistance of the new GI Bill, the Veterans Administration estimated today.

The Illinois estimate is based on more than 16,000 applications for eligibility already received by the VA Regional Office in Chicago, according to John B. Naser, manager.

Naser explained that this is only a preliminary total, that by next April 27,000 veterans in the state probably will be receiving educational benefits under the new law. Nationally, VA anticipates a 500,000 peak by next April.

Between 60 and 75% of the veterans-students will attend college, with the remainder enrolling in trade schools, or taking correspondence work or completing their high school education.

The average ages of the back-to-school veterans, based on the first group of enrollees attending summer school this year, will be 28. One-half of the G.I. students will have wives.

The basic allowance for a single veteran is $100 a month for full-time training; $125 for a veteran with one dependent; and $150 for a veteran with two or more dependents.

Early enrollees may receive their first checks Oct. 20, but VA advises veterans that it actually will be almost two months from date of enrollment before he can expect his first check. Naser explained this lapse is due to regulations requiring both the veteran and school to certify to both enrollment and attendance.

Veterans are required to mail their certificate of attendance at the end of the first month. The school will send an acknowledgment of initial enrollment, but after that all responsibility for notifying the VA of attendance is up to the veterans. A delay in sending in the certificate of attendance, which is provided to all persons attending schools, could result in a delay in the mailing of the veteran's check, normally scheduled for the 20th of each month.

The veteran's first month will be prorated for the actual number of weeks he attended classes. If a veteran's first month entails only two weeks of actual schooling, he will receive one-half of the regular monthly payment.

Lutheran Hour Anniversary Sunday

The Lutheran Hour, termed the world's most widespread non-government broadcasting operation, begins its 34th season on Radio Sunday, Sept. 26, Rev. Alfred Buis, pastor of Hope Church, announced today.

The Lutheran Hour is the global ministry of three local Lutheran churches, Concordia, Hope and St. John and their associated congregations throughout the United States and Canada. It is heard each Sunday at 7 a.m. on Station KWK, at 2 p.m. on KJMO, and at 10:30 p.m. on KSD.

Rev. Buis said the Lutheran Hour each week broadcasts in 40 languages, reaching an estimated 30,000,000 listeners in more than 120 lands. The program is produced by the Lutheran Laymen's League, 140,000 member auxiliary organization of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

Dr. Hoffman has served the church for 30 years in the capacity of parish pastor, college professor, film production adviser, public relations executive, and worldwide radio speaker. He was appointed Lutheran Hour speaker in 1955.

Public Invited To Tour State Highway Offices

An invitation to the male students of the senior class attending the high schools in the area and the public to tour the District 3 Offices of the Illinois Division of Highways, 3300 St. Clair avenue, East St. Louis, on Friday, Sept. 23, from 4 to 9 p.m. is being made by District Engineer Robert E. Kronst.

He said the visit is being arranged to acquaint the public with the type of work engineering and technical personnel perform in connection with the state's highway program.

Kronst said the program is being arranged in connection with the statewide observance of National Highway Week in Illinois during the week Sept. 18 through 24.

"There is an acute shortage of both engineering and technical personnel in not only the highway field but in other areas as well," Kronst said.

"We hope to encourage some of next year's high school graduates to consider careers in engineering if they plan to attend college. These students who do not plan to attend college will be told of the possibilities offered each year for technical training at the University of Illinois."

Kronst said that for several years the division of Highways in cooperation with the University of Illinois has been providing special 11 week technical training courses for male high school graduates. The students are paid while attending the classes and those who complete the program satisfactorily are placed in positions with the division of highways as technicians.

"We found that only a limited purpose is served when a handicapped individual is provided with physical therapy or artificial limbs or special education, but that is unable to find work later or feel that he is a useful, contributing member to his community," the director related.

"As a rule, this person is forced to remain dependent upon his relatives or various tax-supported agencies and may ultimately become a candidate for one of our already overcrowded institutions."

"To eliminate this type of situation is the goal of the sheltered workshop program," he added.

ense headquarters and units, fire departments, rescue squads and police departments in Granite City, Madison and Venice—all operating on the same channel.

Representatives of all agencies attended the meeting Thursday night, the second since the idea was suggested.

Mayor Partney pointed out that the plan calls for installation of radio equipment by each individual unit that does not now have them and is to be on a voluntary basis. He said, however, that virtually 100% cooperation has been indicated.

Use of such a system will permit ambulance drivers or police officials to radio directly to hospital details of the number of patients, types of injuries, the need of physicians or other pertinent information directly from the scene of an accident or disaster.

Direct radio contact will provide instantaneous contact with needed services, such as police, fire departments or rescue teams and facilitate quicker arrival at the scene of an accident or disaster.

The system will be monitored by the Granite City radio room, and the overall program will be supervised by Victor Koehn, director of Civil Defense in Granite City, Mayor Partney said.

Urges Officials Keep Citizens Informed

Illinois Auditor Michael J. Howlett told a meeting of city and village clerks at the Illinois Municipal League convention in Chicago today that state and local government is expanding much more rapidly than federal government and that local government already is four times greater than the state in Illinois.

Howlett was speaker at a luncheon for municipal clerks in the Pick-Congress hotel as part of the 53rd annual meeting of the Illinois Municipal League.

During the 20-year period ending in October 1965, there was a 250% increase in state and local government employment, while federal government civilian employment expanded by only 30%, Howlett said.

"Local government is about four times the size of state government in Illinois," Howlett told the clerks, pointing out that there were 318,994 local government employees in October 1965, when the state payroll was $2,848. Illinois school districts employed 157,853; municipalities 88,308; counties 32,026; townships 11,500 and special districts 37,029.

Howlett advised the delegates that "local government is closer to the people than any other kind, and it is most effective if the people are thoroughly informed on what their government is doing."

"With taxes and government costs steadily rising," he advised, "the fellow who has to pay the bill is inclined to wonder if his money is being carefully spent. Unless the citizen is adequately informed, a real trouble can find itself in real trouble financially."

COMPLETED SCIENCE BUILDING on the SIU-SW campus contains lecture halls large enough to hold 212 students, faculty offices, research areas, laboratory space to accommodate 672 students in the same hour, and a penthouse for growth chambers and a green house.

Science Building Completed For Fall Quarter at SIU-SW

Completion of the $4,000,000 science building on Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus will be in time to accommodate students enrolling for the fall quarter.

John Schnabel, registrar, says the four-story structure will enable the campus, along with the Lovejoy Library and the Peck classroom building, to provide classroom space for 5000 students. Classrooms and laboratories in the building will allow science majors, and those students fulfilling university science requirements to use classrooms and laboratories especially designed by Educational Facilities Laboratories, Inc., a subsidiary of the Ford Foundation.

Special equipment such as suitcase drawers, which fit into wall shelves, permit students to store supplies until their particular laboratory period.

The new building will eliminate science courses and labs previously held in cramped quarters at East St. Louis and Alton campuses.

Price Endorses Fair Campaigning Code

Melvin Price (D), 24th Illinois Congressional District, announced last week that he had endorsed and signed the Code of Fair Campaign Practices proposed for candidates in the forthcoming November elections.

"There is no reason for a candidate for public office to degrade the position he seeks by use of scurrilous attacks on an opponent's integrity through falsehood, slander, whispering campaigns or sly innuendoes," Price declared.

The fair-practice code for candidates was drawn up by the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, Inc., headed by Charles P. Taft of Ohio, with former Presidents Truman and Eisenhower as honorary members.

Candidates who sign the code pledge to refrain from slander and abuse, from covert or overt attacks on the loyalty of opponents, from appeals to prejudice involving race, creed or national origin.

Alert Play by Evenden As Defensive Striker Helps Iowa Win 31-20

Coach Ray Nagel named sophomore tackle John Evenden to Granite City and senior linebacker Dan Hilsabeck of Audubon, Ia., as the outstanding defensive players in the University of Iowa's 31-20 win Saturday at Iowa City over the University of Arizona. Hilsabeck, a two-year letterman, was voted the game ball for his performance.

Evenden, the former Granite City Warrior, recovered a fumble, setting up a three-point field goal for Iowa late in the game. Credited with several key tackles and assists, he also broke through the Arizona offensive line on two successive plays to nail quarterback Bob Mathews behind the line of scrimmage.

Nagel said, "Evenden played an excellent game, showing great aggressiveness and hustle, and without too much benefit from our coaching." He explained that the 250-pound line player had been switched to the Iowa offense to defensive left tackle just seven days after the Big Ten team non-conference opener, replacing junior letterman John Diehl, who is lost for the season with a shoulder fracture.

"Seven practice sessions didn't give him much of a chance to learn our defensive tactics, but he adapted quickly and naturally to his new assignment," the Iowa gridiron coach related to newsmen. Evenden had played only on offense at Iowa. As a Warrior, he played both defensive guard and center.

Nagel praised the work of the defensive line, which held Arizona scores until early in the fourth quarter. "At that point," he said, "I decided to clear the bench and look at everyone." The Arizona Wildcats scored their 20 points in that period.

With less than five minutes to go in the game, Nagel put in the first defensive unit with the score 28-20. On the second play, Hilsabeck jogged the ball loose from an Arizona back, with Evenden recovering the fumble.

Trojans Lose 14-13 After Leading On 82-Yard Runback, 79-Yard Pass

A fine display of broken field running by Sam Jones in the first quarter set up an extra point placement by Marvin Owsa, and a 79-yard pass from Steve Geroff off Joe Collins in the second quarter were not enough for the Madison Trojans as they opened their season at Edwardsville Friday night with a 14-13 loss.

The proverbial straw to break the camel's back was the extra point placement failure by Madison in the second quarter.

"The kick was partially blocked, and when the Edwardsville Tigers added their second touch-down and again kicked perfectly, they had a one-point lead that stood up through the scoreless second half."

In the first quarter, Madison jumped in front with Jones' 82-yard punt return.

Jones, one of eight Trojans in the starting lineup who faced the Tigers last year, shot off three tacklers early and got a fine block on the far sidelines to open the door for the final 77 yards. Owsa placed the extra point to put the Trojans in front 7-0.

19-Yard Run Ties Score
Edwardsville countered in the late minutes of the second quarter to deadlock the clash at 7-7. With Tiger Bill Deen breaking loose for the final 19 yards of the 45-yard march.

Less than two minutes later, a third down play, Geroff connected with end Joe Collins on a long pass from the Trojan 27. Collins eluded pursuers to score on the 79-yard play, putting Madison ahead 13-7.

Again Edwardsville countered with Phil Mathews, a senior fullback, scoring on a four-yard run. A successful place kick brought the score to Edwardsville 14, Madison 13.

Drive to Tiger 20
In the third quarter, the Trojans passed and drove to the Tigers' 20, but ran out of downs.

Glen Pickering, Madison coach, said that this was the turning point in the ball game.

"We seemed to lose the glow at this point in the game," Pickering commented.

Price Proposes Tax Break for Teachers

Congressman Melvin Price, Dem., East St. Louis, introduced legislation last week permitting teachers to deduct for Federal income tax purposes educational expenses incurred at institutions of higher learning and for related travel expenses.

Price pointed out that such deductions are presently allowed by the Internal Revenue Service although IRS has recently proposed rescinding that provision of the tax code. He expressed concern over such action being taken at a time when emphasis is being placed on improving the quality of the Nation's educational systems.

"Teachers are an integral part of the educational process," Price asserted, "and they should be equipped with the needed skills to effectively carry out their vital functions." Additional training is one way of obtaining those skills, he noted, suggesting that "the tax incentive I have proposed is not unreasonable since many schools urge their teachers to obtain further training. The proposal is a recognition of these efforts by dedicated teachers to acquire greater teaching proficiencies."

"Moreover, the skills our teachers accrue benefit our students and ultimately our whole society," Price said.

Retired Members Group Doubles Membership in Year

More than doubling membership in its two years of existence, together with the expansion of services and programs offered to local retirees, one of the newest Tri-Cities United Fund agencies, the Fraternal Society of Retired Members, continues each week to gain in popularity with senior citizens.

Organized in 1964 to provide a center-city "club" for retirees, many of whom live alone in rented rooms, the Society originally was formed to serve retired union members and met in the Labor Temple building. Later, the group moved into its own rented quarters at 1810 State street.

Since that time, membership in the United Fund agency has been opened to any retiree who desires companionship, a quiet place to get-together and talk over "the good old days," to enjoy the company of others, or to watch their favorite television program.

Disaster Fire

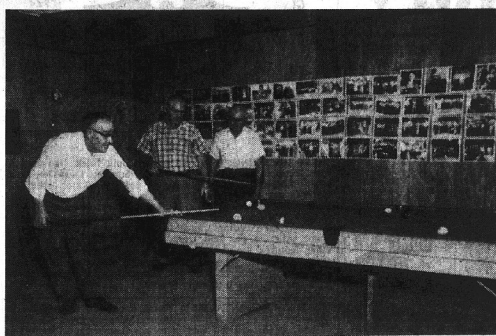

Showing a resiliency, similar to that displayed by many of the "old-timers" themselves, the Society has bounced back into high gear following an unfortunate fire 12 months ago that completely gutted the interior of the club building.

Through contributions offered by a number of local labor groups, plus a portion of the annual UF allocation, the Society has remodeled its club rooms, refurbishing them with a pool table, lounge chairs, some kitchen equipment, a television set and new floor covering.

Society membership today totals 170, an increase of 85 members over the 1965 figure. According to the Society president, John Zabel, a former Granite City Steel employee, the number is steadily increasing.

Purpose of Club

In addition to providing a city-center club for its members, the Society has among its principal objectives "to advance the social, economic and welfare of retired workers.

Educational programs scheduled within the past year have informed members of their Medicare rights, while local attorneys have addressed small groups on such topics as wills and insurance policies. Other informative sessions explained provisions in disability or pension plans.

Within the past few months, the Society has organized chartered bus excursions to Grant's Farm and to St. Louis Cardinal baseball game on "Senior Citizen's Day." For the latter trip, the Society invited members of the YMCA Senior Citizen's Club to join them on the excursion.

More than 40 persons attended each of the outings. The Society is supported with an $1800 appropriation from United Fund contributions. Of this amount, $1200 is expended for building rental; $400 for utilities, including lights, heat and water; $50 for general supplies; and $100 for special open house entertainment. The 1967-68 budget is the same amount as allocated for the previous 12-month period.

Business meetings are held each first and third Saturday at the club facility. New members are encouraged to attend at this time, Zabel said, and learn more of the activities of the Fraternal Society of Retired Members.

4 New Graduate Courses Offered at SIU-SW

Four new graduate courses for those interested in advanced work in business will be offered for the first time this fall at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus.

The announcement was made by Kenneth H. Myers, dean of the Business Division. Students who have a bachelor's degree from any accredited college or university in any area are eligible to enroll in these advanced courses, Myers said.

All four classes will meet on Monday and Wednesday evenings. Two of them, Managerial Economics, to be offered from 8:30 to 10:20, and Marketing Management, from 6:30 to 8:20, are for those who have a bachelor's degree in business. Accounting Concepts, to meet from 8:30 to 10:20, and The Management Process, from 6:30 to 8:20, are open to those with a bachelor's degree in any area but are prerequisites for those interested in the Master of Business Administration program which SIU hopes to offer at the Southwestern Campus in the fall of 1968. At present, two-thirds of the course work in business will be offered in the evening at the new campus and the remainder of the program must be taken at Carbondale.

"These courses have been added because of a constant demand by individuals who are in need of advanced training," Myers said. "Business, industry, and government are steadily requiring greater academic skills and training of their employees because the demands for competency within their own organizations have risen. SIU has initiated additional courses to fulfill this void and is redesigning others to meet this increased competency requirement." Registration for the fall quarter will continue through Sept. 21.

State EOC Directors Form Organization

Directors and chairmen of Community Action agencies under the Economic Opportunity program outlined methods to advance in the "War on Poverty" during a meeting last week in Carbondale.

Oliver Taylor, assistant regional director, Great Lakes Region of EOC, was the speaker. He pointed out Illinois leads the nation in the number of Head Start enrollees and is second in Neighborhood Youth Corps enrollees.

He advised directors to find ways and means to bring about changes in attitudes toward the poor on social and governmental levels.

The group voted to organize in order to stimulate state-wide support among community action groups and to fill training and educational needs of such groups.

Through organization, the chairmen and directors plan to speed up inter-agency cooperation at all levels and to keep the public fully informed on anti-poverty efforts throughout the state.
